

The 2009 Drama for Life Festival

23 August - 5 September 2009

Venue: Wits School of Arts, University of the Witwatersrand,
Braamfontein, Johannesburg, South Africa

Since its inception, the purpose of the Drama for Life Festival has been to create a central hub for people working in this field, by introducing a safe space for networking, support and dialogue. This year's Festival's theme is

“Changing the face of HIV/Aids; changing our consciousness”

During this event participants across the continent will be able to share experiences and explore ideas to enhance individual and collective efforts in a supportive environment.

All researchers, development workers, trainers, theatre and health practitioners are invited to submit proposals for workshops and performances to be presented at the 2009 Drama for Life Festival.
